South-Central Cuts Power Rates

South-Central Rural Electric Cooperative announced today a reduction in rates for electric service in rural areas effective August 1. South-Central operates an electric distribution system in Fairfield, Perry, Pickaway, Hocking and portions of adjacent counties and serves approximately 9,000 consumers.

The overall rate reduction amounts to approximately 6 per cent or $68,000 based upon 1959 revenues.

The commercial rate now in effect within municipal corporations will apply in rural areas replacing the present rural commercial rate. This will result in an average reduction of 6 per cent to rural commercial users.

The town commercial and residential rates are presently fixed by ordinance and will remain as they are.

Rural farm and home rates are being reduced on an average of 6 1/2 per cent. Approximately 90 per cent of South-Central's consumers are in this group. Rate reductions to individual consumers will vary from 3.2 per cent to over 10 per cent depending upon the amount of power consumed and whether or not the consumer uses a water heater.

"SUBSTANTIAL increases in the use of power by the cooperative's consumers has, in a large part, made this decrease in rates possible and it is hoped that this decrease in rates will stimulate still greater use of electricity," an official of the cooperative stated.

"He further stated that the new rates were adopted by the Board of Trustees after a very thorough economic and rate study was made and considered, and that the aim of the cooperative is to provide the lowest rate possible and still maintain high quality service and a financially sound service organization."

Carole Weiler, Miss Ohio, To End Reign Saturday

Circleville's Miss Ohio, Carole Weiler, will relinquish her crown to a new Miss Ohio Saturday night at Mansfield.

She and Miss America, Linda Lee Mead, will take part in the 1960 Miss Ohio Pageant sponsored by the Mansfield Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Carole will be a vital cog in the three-day program which starts with a parade Thursday evening. Judging of contestants will take place Friday and Saturday with the final selection of a new Miss Ohio Saturday night.

The winner will compete in the Miss America Pageant at Atlantic City in September. Miss Ohio will receive a $1,000 scholarship in addition to the trip to Atlantic City.

Carole is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn W. Weiler, 204 N. Pickaway St.

Smaller Nations Challenge Soviet To Prove Spy Case

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Smaller nations in the U. N. Security Council challenged the Soviet Union today to prove its charge that a U. S. RB47 plane penetrated Soviet air space before it was shot down July 1.

Both Italy and Argentina warned the U. S. S. R. it risked losing world public opinion by rejecting an American proposal for an impartial international investigation. Both expressed deep skepticism of the Soviet story.

The Soviet Union was expected by some U. N. diplomats to cast its 88th veto to prevent international investigation of the incident in which one American flier was killed, three are missing and two are Soviet captives facing trial as spies.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov told the Security Council Monday his government is "resolutely opposed" to the U. S. proposal that the U. S. and Soviet governments submit their dispute over the plane to an international commission or to the International Court of Justice.

The only purpose of such an inquiry, said Kuznetsov, would be to "confuse a completely clear issue."

The U. N. diplomats also anticipated that a majority of the 11-nation council would vote down a Soviet resolution asking the council to condemn "continuing provocative actions by the United States Air Force" and to insist that the U. S. government stop such flights.

In the debate Monday U. S. delegate Henry Cabot Lodge denied the Soviet charge that the RB47 was on a spy flight and was over Soviet territorial waters when it was shot down in the Barents Sea.

Lodge told the council the plane was on an "electromagnetic observation flight" and never came closer than 30 miles to the Soviet coast, 18 miles beyond the 12-mile limit the Soviets put on their territorial waters.

Kuznetsov charged that Lodge's version was fabricated and his maps falsified. But Sir Pierson Dixon of Britain told the council his government also "has reliable evidence" to show that the plane never went within 30 miles of the Soviet coast.

The Soviets are holding two of the plane's six crewmen for trial as spies, and three are missing. The body of the sixth, the pilot, was recovered by the Soviets and was flown to a U. S. base in Germany Monday.

Ike Winging To GOP Parley

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP)—President Eisenhower flies today from the peaceful summer White House in this seaside resort to the stormy Republican convention in Chicago.

The President, noted for a knack for forgetting tugging forces to pull together, will deliver a nationally televised address tonight to delegates who have been wrangling bitterly over GOP platform policy.

For Eisenhower, the trip to Chicago represented something of a sentimental journey. It was there that he was nominated for the first of his two terms as president.

Eisenhower, as commander of Allied forces in Europe in World War II, won a reputation for being able to smooth out national rivalries and differing viewpoints.

The summer White House gave no hint as to whether he would step directly into the disputes at the convention.

But the very presence of the nation's leader and the views he expressed in his speech could hardly fail to carry some influence on the platform to be adopted Wednesday.

Less than 24 hours before Eisenhower set out for Chicago, Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the odds-on favorite for the GOP presidential nomination, said he was not satisfied with the civil rights plank drawn up by a convention committee.

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said the big Empire State delegation would wage a floor fight on both the defense and civil rights planks if necessary.

Rockefeller has proposed a 3 1/2-billion-dollar increase in defense spending for the current fiscal year as absolutely vital to the nation's safety. Eisenhower has said the present spending program is adequate.

NIXON WINS IN RIGHTS FUSS

Governors Fail To Get Rock To OK Veep Post

CHICAGO (AP)—A group of Republican governors failed today in an attempt to get Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York to accept the Republican nomination for vice president.

Rockefeller changed the subject on them and made his own sales talk for support of the platform principles he and Vice President Richard M. Nixon agreed on.

Gov. Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon, leader of the group, said he still had not abandoned all hope Rockefeller would change his mind about the nomination.

But Rockefeller said he decision against running in second spot is "irrevocable."

Rockefeller and Hatfield addressed a packed news conference in the lobby of the Sheraton Towers Hotel after the meeting between Rockefeller and his fellow governors.

Hatfield had requested a meeting to try to persuade Rockefeller to run.

Hatfield told the reporters that Rockefeller's previous statements still stood.

Rockefeller has turned down the No. 2 spot in every conceivable way. He said last Saturday that, if necessary, he would make the classic political rejection: "If nominated, I will not run. If elected, I will not serve."

The governor, in a position almost parallel to that of Nixon, is plugging for a civil rights plank stronger than the one the Platform Committee has turned out. For himself, Rockefeller is also urging stronger action on national defense.

At least in part for bargaining purposes on the latter point, he has been holding back the New York delegation, now committed to him for the presidential nomination, from a shift to Nixon. From his session with the governors, Rockefeller headed into talks with delegation from New Jersey, the District of Columbia, Louisiana, North Dakota and Illinois.

He said he would discuss platform issues with them.

Other governors invited to the meeting were Robert T. Stafford of Vermont, Christopher Del Socio of Hawaii, John Reed of Maine and J. Caleb Boggs of Delaware.

Meanwhile, the New York State delegation was poised to leap into the Nixon presidential camp.

The delegates needed only the word from Rockefeller, chairman of the 96-vote delegation.

Th governor has held the delegation uncommitted, first against the possibility he might be a presidential candidate himself, later to back him up in a fight for a party platform acceptable to him.

But with selection of a presidential candidate imminent, the New York delegates were growing increasingly restless over their neutral status in a one-man race.

Khrushchev Raps West Arms Plan

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev has attacked the latest Western disarmament proposals as an attempt to keep stockpiles of weapons handy for aggressive purposes under the guise of disarmament.

"Instead of a concrete reduction and limitation of armaments," Khrushchev wrote British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and Canadian Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker, "the United States proposes to have states store a definite quantity of arms on their own territories under the supervision of international controllers."

Minutes later, a service station a few miles away, operated by Jake Jones, 34, was robbed by a man driving a red automobile.

Within 10 minutes another service station at Shiloh, north of Dayton, was robbed of $100.

Five minutes later, a gunman entered a coin-operated laundry about a block from the second holdup. Mr. and Mrs. Opdyke were doing their laundry when the man entered and threatened them with a gun. He forced them to get into their own car and drive him to Indianapolis.

GOP Keynoter Tells Why Republicans Best Qualified To Handle Cold War

CHICAGO (AP)—Rep. Walter H. Judd says the Eisenhower administration has kept peace with honor and that "the man this convention will nominate" is incomparably the best qualified to deal with the cold war.

Judd meant Vice President Richard M. Nixon. But his keynote speech Monday night was on opening day of the Republican National Convention, and Nixon is not slated to be nominated until Wednesday night.

The Minnesota congressman's 6,000-word address followed the classic pattern of keynote orations, though it was longer than most. He sang praises for the Republican record under President Eisenhower, predicted even better things ahead under Nixon, and charged the Democrats were unqualified to meet the challenge.

The delegates, in a relaxed and receptive mood, greeted his sallies with roars of approval.

"What kind of reckless and irresponsible action is it," Judd asked, "for anyone to misrepresent the United States as a second class power, as was done in the Democratic convention, and thereby encourage the very attacks which all Americans profoundly hope and pray can be prevented?"

In this 1860-1960 centennial year, Judd hearkened back to Abraham Lincoln, the first Republican president, and said the gravest issue of this century too is human slavery.

"This time not men enslaved by other men," he said, "but masses of men enslaved by governments."

More human beings are in bondage tonight than every before in human history."

Dealing with more recent Republican history, Judd said the Eisenhower administration "brought to an end the fighting in the Korean war which the Truman administration would not win and could not stop."

"In addition," he said, "this administration has prevented a half dozen other threats from developing into war—Trieste, the Mossadegh uprising in Iran, Guatemala, Formosa, Suez, Lebanon, Quemoy, West Berlin."

Far from allowing the nation to sag into a dangerous lag in missile strength, as has been charged by Democrats, Judd said, the administration fought and overcame a lag in this field he said was inherited from the Truman administration.

"The Truman administration in eight years had put 17 times more into price supports for peanuts than for long-range missiles," he said, adding:

"It took the Soviet Union 12 years to develop its long-range missiles. It took this administration six years to get ours operational. Anything wrong with that?"

Judd also pictured the use of the controversial U2 spy planes as one of several "brilliant examples of successful initiative."

"The fact that our U2 operations were so outstandingly successful for four years should be a source of intense pride to all Americans," he said. "The U2s were not provoking war, they were helping to prevent war."

Route 22 Due For Closing

Relocation Work Slated to Start

According to plans today, Route 22 east of Circleville will be closed tomorrow morning as the signal to start relocation of the highway.

State Highway Department officials here said eastbound traffic on Route 22 will be detoured to Route 188 northeast to Route 674 and then back to Route 22. Westbound traffic will use the same routing.

Route 188 intersects Route 674 a short distance northeast of Ringgold. Route 674 also is known as the County Line Road.

Route 674 has been widened recently to handle the expected heavy flow of Route 22 traffic. Proper signs and directions also have been erected.

A new coat of blacktop was added on Northridge Road from Court St. to Atwater Ave. several days ago to support the heavy load of traffic in that area.

The Route 22 relocation will be handled by the D. E. Goodchild Construction Co. of Circleville. The new stretch of highway will start near the Pickaway County Infirmary and extend to the city.

Ohio, Indiana Police Seek Kidnap-Robber

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The crime spree of a 29-year-old man alerted police in Ohio and Indiana today after two service station holdups and the kidnaping of a Dayton couple.

Montgomery County Sheriff's Sgt. Paul Herby said the man hunted is James Kinsey, 29, believed to be somewhere in Indian apolis.

The kidnaped couple, Gary Opdyke, 25, and his wife, was released unharmed in the center of Indianapolis this morning after being forced to drive the man there, Sgt. Herby said.

First report of the crime spree reached the sheriff's office in Dayton early in the morning. It came from Mrs. Charles Kinsey, living north of the city. She said her brother-in-law, James Kinsey, came to her home and threatened her with a gun, telling her he was "going to become a big-time gangster."

Minutes later, a service station a few miles away, operated by Jake Jones, 34, was robbed by a man driving a red automobile.

Within 10 minutes another service station at Shiloh, north of Dayton, was robbed of $100.

Five minutes later, a gunman entered a coin-operated laundry about a block from the second holdup. Mr. and Mrs. Opdyke were doing their laundry when the man entered and threatened them with a gun. He forced them to get into their own car and drive him to Indianapolis.

BIGGEST CROWDS FOR NIXON — Vice President Richard Nixon and family touch off the most explosive demonstration of the Republican convention as they ride down Chicago's Michigan Avenue.

Kennedy Builds His Political Fences by Remote Control

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy worked today at building political fences by remote control and arranged to receive a briefing from an African nationalist on the African situation.

The Democratic presidential nominee also kept at least a casual eye on television broadcasts of the Republican national convention in Chicago.

He told newsmen Monday he would "give it the same attention Mr. Nixon gave ours."

While aides sought to strengthen his position in New York and California, which he has designated his coast-to-coast "anchors to success," Kennedy planned to receive a personal report on Africa from Tom Mboya, general secretary of the Kenya Federation of Labor.

Mboya is a leader in the movement for independence for Kenya, a British colony. He was invited to fly here from New York to see Kennedy after letting out word he would appreciate the opportunity.

Kennedy forces faced fresh problems in their efforts—through the "Citizens-for-Kennedy" movement or otherwise—to line up a unity of effort by clashing forces in New York. All of these say they want to back the Kennedy-Johnson ticket but are in bitter factional disputes.

Michael H. Prendergast, New York state Democratic chairman, spoke out Monday against the "Citizens-for-Kennedy" idea. He said the party experienced "tremendous losses" while attempting a somewhat similar unity effort in the 1952, 1956 and 1958 campaigns.

Prendergast said he made an "arrangement" with Kennedy before the Democratic national convention that Prendergast would run the New York state campaign.

Some persons thought Prendergast and Kennedy might be closer than the state chairman's statements might indicate.

Kennedy has said right along he wants a single command campaign, run through the Democratic National Committee and down through the official state organizations.

He intends "Citizens-for-Kennedy" to fit into the structure and provide a voice for independents and dissident Republicans.

Johnson Opens Campaign Tour

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson started his campaign as the Democratic vice presidential candidate with a special train trip today to the Frontier Days celebration at Cheyenne, Wyo., 90 miles north of here.

Johnson, guest of Palmer Hoyt, publisher of the Denver Post, was to appear at a Chamber of Commerce luncheon and then visit the rodeo in the afternoon. No formal address was scheduled either place.

Johnson expects to return to return to Denver late today and fly back to his ranch near Johnson City, Tex.

Rail Engineer Union To Get New Chieftain

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the nation's oldest railroad labor organization, will have a new chief next week.

The new head man of the independent union will be Roy E. Davidson, 59, now assistant grand chief engineer of the BLE.

By a vote of the union's grand lodge and provisions of the BLE constitution, Davidson will step up to grand chief engineer Monday when Guy L. Brown, 67, retires.

Rhodesia Racial Riots Continue

BULAWAYO, Southern Rhodesia (AP)—Police fired on African rioters in a Negro section of Bulawayo today, killing at least one Negro as rioting against white rule continued for the third day.

Thousands of workers in the city's native labor force failed to show up for work. Police said Negro mobs were swarming around the city's railroad marshalling yards. Two other groups were blocked by authorities as they tried to invade the white sector.

At least three Negroes already had been killed and more than 70 injured in outbreaks Sunday and Monday. Rioting continued unchecked Monday night in the Negro sections. More than 2,000 troops sealed off the African townships.

Evacuations Continue In Chile Flood Area

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—Army engineers, trying to evacuate the last few of 40,000 persons from the flood-threatened city of Valdivia, say 80 per cent of the city will be under 13 feet of water soon.

Water from swollen Lake Rinihue, 50 miles above the city in southern Chile, began Monday to break through a series of earth dams formed by the disastrous earthquakes of last May.

Rocky Helps In Fight for Strong Plank

Writing Panel Bows As Southerners Hint Withdrawing Support

CHICAGO (AP)—Republican platform writers bowed to the inevitable today and prepared to give presidential nominee-to-be Richard M. Nixon the strong civil rights platform plank he has demanded.

The platform writers voted — after overnight pressure by Nixon and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York—to reconsider the plank both men had criticized. Some Southerners did not like the move.

Thad Hutcheson, cochairman of the Texas delegation, said the Texans were dropping their pledge to vote for Nixon for the nomination. He said Southern leaders would caucus later in the day.

The Platform Committee made the turnaround on the civil rights trail after hours of argument. The committee also decided to reconsider the defense plank.

That action was attributed to advice from President Eisenhower rather than to a desire to make concessions to the views of Rockefeller, who has called for a stronger defense face-up to world conditions.

Eisenhower will address the convention tonight.

A forenoon meeting of the Platform Committee was the testing ground for what Nixon and Rockefeller had accomplished in efforts that occupied them during much of the night.

Nixon's assessment of ground gained came as he left his hotel for a series of meetings with state delegations. He told newsmen he had conferred with Rockefeller during the night and had telephone talks with numerous members of the platform committee.

Rockefeller pressed his platform views at a breakfast meeting with other Republican Governors. Gov. Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon said the governors, on the other hand, were making it an occasion for trying to persuade Rockefeller he should become receptive toward the vice presidential spot on the Republican ticket.

The New York governor has repeatedly and emphatically said he would not be interested in the No. 2 place, feeling he could accomplish more by continuing as governor.

The plans to greet Eisenhower on his arrival and to give him a convention ovation tonight left almost nothing to chance. Unless a cog slipped, it would be the biggest thing of its kind the Republican party ever put on.

But in the backstage some confusion remained over the signals for an end run around the line of Southern and Western delegates standing for a moderate civil rights plank. Nor was there agreement on where to throw the pass that would carry the party beyond the limits of the Eisenhower defense program.

Rockefeller expressed belief that he and Nixon can agree on terms of a plank calling for accelerated efforts to bolster the nation's defense. He saw no probability of a convention floor ruckus on this.

But his and the vice president's efforts to get platform committee approval of a civil rights declaration that carried an endorsement of lunch counter sit-ins was another matter.

As Rockefeller himself put it: "We've got the language, but have we got the votes?"

Nixon, working to avoid a floor fight that might delay his own nomination Wednesday night until East Coast television viewers had gone to bed, put on a cheerful front.

Case Gets Feeler For Nod as Veep
WASHINGTON (AP)—An aide of Sen. Clifford P. Case of New Jersey said today Case has been asked by close associates of Richard M. Nixon to consider becoming the vice presidential running mate for Nixon, considered certain to win the Republican presidential nomination.

Sam Zagoria, administrative assistant to Case who is in Chicago at the Republican National Convention, said he telephoned Case to report the latest inquiry received by Zagoria at Case's Washington office.

"Because this was just a feeler about his availability and not a definite offer, Sen. Case decided there was no need for a definite decision on his part," Zagoria said.

Driver Cited On Accusation Of Intoxication

Traffic cases in Circleville Municipal Court today included a driver accused of operating a motor vehicle under the influence of intoxicants.

The charge was against Ernest E. Happeny, 25, of 140 Lowery Lane. He was fined $150 and costs, sentenced to five days in jail and had his driver's license suspended for one year.

Happeney was cited by city police. Officers said they warned him not to drive a short time before the arrest. They said he was stopped a few minutes after the unheeded warning.

John H. Wingo, 36, Chillicothe, was fined $50 and costs and had his driving rights suspended for one year on a charge of reckless operation. He was the driver of the car in which a passenger was killed Wednesday in an accident on the Circleville - Groveport Road northeast of here.

Wingo was cited by the sheriff's department.

DRIVERS arrested by the State Highway Patrol were: Charles W. Price, 49, Williamsport; $30 and costs for no operator's license.

Jimmy Lee King, 25, Columbus; $20 and costs for speeding at 70 miles per hour in a 50 mile zone. Robert Purcott, Royal Oak, Mich., and James V. Horsley, 25, Chillicothe; each fined $10 and costs for speeding at 70 miles per hour.

Donald C. Maynard, 19, Columbus, forfeited a $25 bond for speeding at 73 miles per hour. His speed was checked by the State Highway Patrol airplane.

Linda J. Jester, 21, Clarksburg, was fined $50 and costs for driving left of center. She was arrested by the sheriff's department.

Castro Shows Up At Rebel Rally

LAS MERCEDES, Cuba (AP)—Stern-faced and tired, Prime Minister Fidel Castro arrived in this east Cuban town today for a rally celebrating the seventh anniversary of his revolution.

Castro, who has been seen little in public since a recent attack of pneumonia, was cheered by the vast crowds. Castro's appearance dispelled rumors that he was seriously ill.

There had been questions whether he even would appear for his own birthday party. He is expected to use the rally for new attacks on the United States.

In contrast to the dour Castro, President Osvaldo Dorticos was bouncy and smiling as he waved to the crowds. He arrived with Castro.

The first ambition of John L. Sullivan, world heavyweight champion, was to be a plumber or tinsmith.

He called in committee recalcitrants and announced later he believes the necessary votes may be obtained. If they are not, he dnce that the convention itself will go along with their views.

In the platform committee each satte has two votes. On the convention floor the big-vote states supporting a strong plank could smother the opposition.

There was no readily available information on just how far the plank would go. But Sen. Jacob K. Javits of New York said he was informed it would call not only for approval of lunch counter sit-ins but would propose arming the attorney general with authority to initiate civil rights suits.

Eisenhower, taking time out from his vacation in Newport, R.I., was expected to be consulted not only about the quarrelsome civil rights and defense planks but about his views on the vice presidential nominee.

Nixon told a news conference the President's opinion would have great weight with him in choosing his running mate.

There seemed little doubt that U.N. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. had the inside track at the moment. Nevertheless, some delegates were mumbling that they didn't know why they should take on a man who in 1952 lost his Senate seat to Sen. John F. Kennedy, now the Democratic presidential nominee.

There was evidence that Nixon might delay his final decision on a running mate until Thursday. The reported agreement on Lodge didn't keep governors and others from booming other candidates.

Gov. Christopher Del Sesto of Rhode Island announced he has 100 or more delegate votes lined up for Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell, a Roman Catholic.

Gov. William G. Stratton of Illinois said he is going ahead with plans to place in nomination for the second place job Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of his state.

An eight-minute demonstration at Monday night's convention session put new zip into the possible candidacy of Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona for second place.

Drinking Party Raided by Police

A drinking party on Logan St., crashed by Circleville Police Sunday night, resulted in five persons landing in Municipal Court yesterday to face charges of intoxication and disorderly conduct.

The raid was at the Charles Hayes residence. Taken into custody were Hayes, Robert Reynolds, Williamsport, Hamp Ferguson, 740 S. Scioto St., Gail Showalter, Athens, and Grace Swift, 360 Weldon Ave.

Judge Sterling M. Lamb fined each $50 and costs. All pleaded guilty.

City police confiscated several bottles of wine and beer during the raid.

Kiwanis Hears Judge Hoover

Cuyahoga County Common Pleas Judge Earl R. Hoover last night urged Circleville Kiwanians, their wives and guests to take a more active part in politics.

The occasion was Kiwanis Ladies Night held in the Wardell Party Home. A country fried chicken dinner preceded Judge Hoover's impressive address.

The 11-year common pleas judge is a candidate for the Ohio Supreme Court for the term beginning Jan. 1, 1961, now held by Judge James Bell.

Judge Hoover gave the good and bad sides of politics, spicing his topic with humorous jokes. A researcher into the Civil War history, Judge Hoover related the difficult times during Abraham Lincoln's administration and how the great president stood the criticism.

He concluded his speech by stating that politics have made the United States the greatest free nation in the world. He was accompanied here by his son, Richard, a senior at Washington and Lee University.

Man Sentenced In Peeping Case

Larry L. Hicks, 19, Renick Ave., was cited into Circleville Municipal Court yesterday on an accusation of window peeping.
Hicks was fined $50 and costs and sentenced to 15 days in jail. He pleaded guilty.

The court suspended the jail sentence and $25 of the fine and ordered probation for six months. The affidavit was filed by Julius Severs, 430 S. Pickaway St.

Congo Chieftain Here Is Schedule For Convention

'Spare No Effort' Claimed Pledged

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Congolese Premier Patrice Lumumba says U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld has promised him to "spare no effort" to get Belgian troops out of the Congo.

The Congo leader scheduled final talks with Hammarskjöld this morning, prior to the secretary-general's departure tonight for discussions with the Belgian government in Brussels and a survey of the Congo situation from Leopoldville.

Lumumba told a news conference Monday he would go to Washington and to Canada to seek French-speaking technicians for the Congo and then fly back to Leopoldville for another meeting with Hammarskjöld Aug. 5.

The Congo premier said he had asked Hammarskjöld to set a deadline for the withdrawal of Belgian troops. He said Hammarskjöld "assured me he will spare no effort and it is in that spirit that he will negotiate in Brussels with the government of Belgium."

Lumumba accused the Belgians of provoking the mutiny in the Congo army by failing to give promotions to native personnel when independence was granted June 30. He also accused the Belgians of trying to detach the rich province of Katanga, whose government has declared its independence of the central government.

"There is no problem of Katanga," Lumumba declared. "There is only the problem of the withdrawal of the Belgian troops."

The Belgian soldiers, sent into Congolese cities after the native troops mutinied, now are slowly pulling back to their bases in the Congo as a U.N. force of 12,000 moves in to keep order.

Lumumba called again on Belgium to pull her troops entirely out of the Congo, claiming the Belgians had "violated and destroyed" the friendship treaty under which they retained two bases in their former African colony.

Asked if he would renew his threat to call in Soviet troops if the Belgian troops did not quit his country, he said he was convinced Belgium "will have to leave before the Security Council's decision and will have to leave our territory."

Springfield Bus Fare Boost Is Given Nod

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Bus fares in Springfield will go up a nickel to 20 cents under an ordinance passed Monday night by the City Commission. The action seemed to assure continued city bus service. Springfield Transit Bus officials had warned last week that the company would have to end service in 30 days if the fare increase was denied.

British 'W.C. Fields' Dies in Sleep at 90

LONDON (AP)—Actor A. E. (Matty) Matthews, 90, an English version of the late W. C. Fields, died in his sleep at his country home near London early today. Matthews played more than 500 stage roles. Though he would have been 91 Nov. 26, he was appearing in a London play only a short time ago. He had vowed he would never retire.

Republican Delegates Show More Attention to Talks

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Will the Republicans pay more attention to the speakers at their convention than did the distracted Democrats?

Apparently so, judging from the first day of GOP sessions on TV. Of course, the Republicans have the advantage of hindsight, having witnessed the frenetic doings in Los Angeles a fortnight ago.

The Republican delegates in Chicago were urged by special message to avoid the recurrence of the rudeness of their Democratic counterparts who milled, mumbled and munched while

Fichter Explains Ohio Wheat Vote

OXFORD, Ohio (AP)—Ohio approval of wheat marketing quotas shows that farmers want to adjust supply to demand "just as business has been doing for a long time," says Joseph W. Fichter. The favorable vote in last Thursday's referendum was 87½ per cent, with two-thirds needed for approval, the chairman of the Ohio farmers union reported. "The vote shows . . . that farmers do not consider marketing quotas, acreage allotments and similar devices to be government controls which deprive them of their freedom, as some reactionary politicians and reactionary farm leaders would have us believe," Fichter said in a prepared statement.

Tully Named Assistant

CINCINNATI (AP)—Edwin R. Tully, a member of the FBI staff here for two years, has been named assistant to Ed D. Mason, special agent in charge of the Cincinnati office. Tully succeeds Eldon C. Williams who was promoted to another job in FBI headquarters in Washington.

Wednesday
6:30 pm—Entertainment, colors, pledge of allegiance, Star Spangled Banner.
7 pm—Gavel and call to order.
Invocation—The Right Rev. Athanasios, bishop of Greek Catholic Diocese of Boston.
Permanent chairman presents Meade Alcorn, former Republican National chairman.
Charles H. Percy, chairman, 1960 Republican platform committee, presents platform.
Permanent chairman calls for roll call for nominations for president of the United States.
Nominating speeches.
Seconding speeches.
Balloting.
Permanent chairman declares the nomination.
Former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York speaks.
Permanent chairman asks roll call for nominations for vice president.
Nominating speeches.

Annual Field Day Set at Clarksburg

The annual Clarksburg Field Day will be held August at the field Day Grounds on Route 138, on e-fourth mile east of the village.

This event, sponsored annually by the Methodist church, began 46 years ago and attracts crowds each year. Many attractions are planned for all day and evening.

Entertainment features include: chalk talk and musical program by Jake Noble, cartoonist from Chillicothe; trained monkeys; Zing and Zang, the Zany Clowns; and the spectacular acrobatic act by the Thomas duo.

The Adelphi Band will furnish music for the event and there will be trapshooting, horseshoe pitching tournament, pony rides and stunts and contests.

Commercial exhibits are invited with free space provided. Lunch will be served during the day at the refreshment stands and a fish and chicken dinner will be served beginning at 4:30 p. m.

All County Art Entries Urged

All citizens of Pickaway County are urged to enter works of art in the Fine Arts and Crafts division of the Pickaway County Fair.

Mrs. Wayne Griffith, Chairman of the division, announced that persons other than members of the Circleville Art League are urged to participate in the fair.

She said exhibitors in Juvenile and Adult departments are to deliver their entries to the Fairgrounds Coliseum between 10 a. m. and 6 p. m. Sunday.

Negro, White Youths Fuss in South Carolina

GREENVILLE, S.C. (AP)—Police broke up large crowds of Negro and white teen-agers who converged Sunday night on two drive-in restaurants operated for white customers.

A scuffle involving about 200 youths flared briefly at one place before police arrived. Shortly afterward officers dispersed a throng estimated at 500 at the other drive-in.

Police said they had not determined the cause of the gatherings.

Benson Shuns Ike Nod

CHICAGO (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson said today he had not cleared with the White House his statement saying Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller would be the best candidate for president.

"This is a free country," he said, in explaining his independent action.

PIPELINERS OF ENERGY

Energy Liquids Extracted from Natural Gas

As it comes from a well, natural gas contains varying amounts of liquid hydrocarbons: natural gasoline, kerosene, propane and butane. These are extracted in a continuous cycling operation in which the gas, from which the liquids have been removed, is compressed and circulated back into the producing formations to push a fresh supply of "wet gas" to the producing well. The operation is continued until the supply of liquids in the producing formations has been exhausted.

La Gloria Oil and Gas Company—a wholly-owned subsidiary of Texas Eastern—operates one of the world's largest natural gas processing plants in the center of an extensive oil and gas field in South Texas. A second plant is under construction in another major field.

The operation of these plants to remove liquid hydrocarbons from natural gas is still another example of the importance of Texas Eastern's role as Pipeliner of Energy to the Nation.

Limit to Space Penetration

Scientists don't try to speak of 36,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000 miles in earth terms. Instead, they prefer the language of the universe, which refers to this distance as six billion light years. A light year describes the distance traveled by an image, at the rate of 186,000 miles a second, in one year.

Thus, an object seen on earth which took one year to project its image here is 5,865,696,000,000 miles away. A pretty far piece, one might say, but astronomers have now delved into the heavens six billion times this distance. They have photographed light images which have been on their way to this planet for six billion years. There is the distinct possibility that what was seen doesn't exist anymore.

Astronomers are able to compute fairly accurately the distance of each universe body their telescopes capture by the color and intensity of the light. The farther the object, the deeper the color spectra.

Dr. Rudolph Minkowski, staff member of the Mount Wilson and Mount Palomar Observatories and a leading U. S. astronomer, has reported to the Astronomical Society of the Pacific that he identified a galaxy photographed by the Mount Palomar telescope as located six billion light years from earth.

Until now, the greatest distance believed covered by the Palomar telescope (the world's largest) was two billion light years. The discovery that triple this distance can be witnessed literally opens the horizons for valuable universe exploration. This was the first evidence that the universe even existed as long ago as six billion years.

Scientists now expect to be able, with the aid of electronic light magnifiers, to increase their visibility still farther. They may even be able to project their sight to the ultimate possible—twelve billion light years—at which point the expanding universe is traveling faster from earth than its light is traveling toward this planet.

There is a limit, therefore, to man's penetration of space. But before he reaches it, he may witness the cosmic explosion believed by many scientists to have been the beginning of the universe. Whether or not he is fortunate enough to reach the beginning of the universe. Whether or not he is fortunate enough to reach the beginning, the horizons he has already opened will provide much knowledge on the creation of the stellar family of which the earth is such a small part.

Be Happy — Be a Belly Breather

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Hilde Somer, one of America's best-known lady concert pianists, has an unusual prescription for a happier life—become "a belly breather."

Miss Somer spends six hours a day at the keyboard. But she says the real key to her own rose-cheeked vitality is a series of five-minute Yoga exercises she does three times daily.

And she believes that anyone who tries them will find they do more than tranquilizer pills to make him feel happier.

"The Yoga exercises do more than keep you in physical trim. They help your mental attitude. I think they can help anyone who is a victim of 20th century pressure," she said.

"Yoga exercises help you enjoy each fraction of the thorny path toward your goal. You can still be ambitious and be happy—if you don't tie yourself into a thousand unnecessary knots."

But the biggest secret of all, said Miss Somer, is to learn to breathe in the Yoga manner.

"There are three ways of breathing—with the upper part of your chest, through expansion of your diaphragm, and through your belly," she said.

"It is breathing through your belly that calms you."

Yeah, but just how do you do that, ma'am?

"You just lie down and let the air out through your nose very slowly—without pushing," answered Miss Somer. She wrapped her skirts around her knees, then stretched out on the floor.

"Then you breathe in very slowly, until your belly feels very plump and full. It's hard to describe verbally, but if you experiment you can learn it. It takes practice. It takes research on your own anatomy. Do you want to try it?"

"Not now, ma'am," I told her bashfully.

That night at home I lay down on the floor, let the air out through my nose carefully—without pushing—and tried to let some air in through my belly. Nothing much happened.

"Now what are you up to, Rover?" asked my wife. I told her with husbandly dignity I was discovering joy through belly breathing.

"If that makes you happy, you should be the most cheerful man in the world," my wife replied.

"Your stomach looks as if someone had done nothing but pump air into it for 10 years. Maybe what you need is to find a way to let some of it out."

Republicans Face Dilemma

By George Sokolsky

The Democratic Convention contained three elements which must find points of agreement or go down to defeat. The three elements are:

1. The Big City Democrats; 2. The South; 3. The A.D.A.

The elements are divergent but their objectives are to elect a Democratic President and a Democratic Congress and then they will try to settle their differences. Franklin D. Roosevelt generally managed to keep these divergent elements together in his person. He functioned somewhat like the British Crown—that is, emotional loyalty to Roosevelt became a substitute for rational response.

The Republicans do not have quite a similar situation, but they too have a division of forces which cannot be ignored. Their division is not as clear-cut as the Democratic one; definition is more difficult. But let us put it this way:

1. There is a remnant of Taft Republicanism which is conservative but not reactionary;

2. There are the newer Republicans who came in with Wendell Willkie and who desire a liberal Republican Party that co-exists with a liberal Democratic Party;

3. There are the Eisenhower Republicans, men and women who are unaccustomed to politics but who admire and even adore President Eisenhower.

Thus there is no genuine Republican image. It was possible in days of Mark Hanna to describe a Republican with a degree of accuracy. That is altogether impossible today. It is for this reason that a degree of paralysis has been noted in the Eisenhower Administration which, having no majority in Congress, sought to function by executive action or by agreement with Lyndon Johnson. It was a tough position for a party and it would be a great advantage to the American people if the next President and the next Congress were of the same party.

President Eisenhower was not a dyed-in-the-wool Republican. He had been in the army most of his adult life and a professional army officer has no party.

When Eisenhower decided to become a Republican, he had to learn the peculiarities of our political system which, of course, is nothing like the politics in the army. In civilian life, it is necessary for a man to be friendly with his opponent, as undoubtedly Kennedy and Nixon are and will be after the campaign. In the army, a senior officer who dislikes or distrusts a junior can have him moved out of his way. It was probably for that reason that President Eisenhower mistreated ex-President Truman.

It will not be possible for Vice President Nixon to accept full and unquestioning responsibility for the Eisenhower Administration. Nevertheless, the Democrats will make that the principal issue. For instance, they have already raised some questions as to the competence of the Eisenhower Administration with regard to the economy of the nation. They have indicated that they intend to make such questions major in the campaign.

As John Kennedy discusses the farm problem, he sounds like a Taft Republican who knows how to use an adding machine; can Richard Nixon deal with this problem less conservatively? He could ask Kennedy as to who started this enormous stockpile of rotting farm products. The answer, of course, would have to be that this all goes way back to the days of Henry Wallace, but that answer is no good. It will not do in 1960 when Franklin D. Roosevelt is a mythical figure and when Henry Wallace and Rexford Guy Tugwell are forgotten.

It will not do because a new generation exists who know Herbert

Hoover as a kindly, elderly gentleman who writes books, and the Depression as something which happened before World War II. The emotional response of each generation are its own and when one realizes how remote the 1930's are, the Republican Party will have to face the realities of today.

Peace and prosperity do not mean the same to a youngster in his 30's as they do to an older man in his 60's. I can recall when this nation went to war gaily, singing "Over There" and calling sauerkraut, Liberty Cabbage. That was a gay, optimistic, sure America that had no doubts about anything. That America does not exist among the younger generations of our people. And it is to many younger generations that Richard Nixon will have to appeal.

If one studies carefully the Democratic platform and John Kennedy's acceptance speech, they are not closely related. The platform was designed to please everybody; the acceptance speech asserted authority.

Georgia Voters To Tell Electoral Vote Destiny

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Gov. Ernest Vandiver said today he will let the voters decide whether Georgia's 12 electors shall be pledged to the Democratic presidential nominees.

He called an Aug. 14 meeting of the 120-member party Executive Committee to consider a proposal for the Sept. 14 primary ballot.

Try and Stop Me

—By BENNETT CERT

IN HIS AUTOBIOGRAPHY, "More Than Meets the Eye," Photographer Carl Mydans tells of a day in 1940, when a shrieking, hysterical Chinese woman in Chungking begged him for a coin or two as she held aloft her dead infant, waving it by one foot, "like a butcher with a plucked chicken."

Mydans gave her a little money, and a few hours later, unable to get the tragic picture out of his mind, returned to the spot where he had seen her. There she sat, a bowl of rice at her side, happily feeding her infant—very much alive and contented. "Then," writes Mydans, "I understood: when people are starving, any ruse is a fair one that adds a few more days to life."

Two Hollywood starlets stopped to admire a display of maternity dresses in a Wilshire Boulevard window. "Amy," decided one starlet suddenly, "if these dresses get one bit cuter, I'm going to have another baby!"

What Snacks Are Best?

By Herman N. Bundesen, M. D.

How about snacks while you are dieting?

Well, between-meal tidbits are probably all right if you follow some suggestions.

Probably your greatest longing for a snack occurs either before dinnertime or before bedtime.

If there is a wait between the time Hubby comes home and dinner is ready, you can relieve that feeling of hunger somewhat by munching a piece of carrot or celery. Or you can take a radish or two, some cucumbers, lettuce or cabbage. A small glassful of tomato juice is all right, too.

While these foods will add some calories, they won't add many. And I think you will find them a satisfactory substitute for the fancy cookies and cake that you may have used in the past.

The mere fact that you are chewing something will probably give you a psychological lift.

Sipping black coffee or tea with or without a non-caloric sweetener, or lemon in the tea, will help relieve that hungry feeling. Since such beverages add no calories at all to your diet, you can have them as frequently as you wish.

But let's be practical. You might prefer something else to cucumbers or black coffee while you watch television later in the evening.

Better still, you can save the fruit or gelatin dessert from dinner for your TV snack.

Where there's a will, you see, there's a way.

Question and Answer

C. B.: My lip has been chapped for some time.

Could this be due to fever or a cold?

Answer: Persistent chapping of the lip may be due to exposure to sun or wind or to excessive dryness of the air. In some cases, it may indicate a vitamin deficiency.

A stubborn area of supposed chapping may be some other type of skin disease or even an early cancer.

The World Today

By James Marlow

Associated Press News Analyst

CHICAGO (AP)—It's like a rerun of the World Series. You see the players running around the bases but you already know the score.

The Republican convention is pretty much a duplicate of the Democratic convention in Los Angeles two weeks ago.

Dull is an accurate word to describe them both.

At Los Angeles there never was much doubt Sen. John F. Kennedy would get the presidential nomination.

Here there never has been any doubt Vice President Richard M. Nixon would be the Republican presidential candidate. The convention will say so Wednesday.

With Kennedy it was just a question of which ballot he'd be nominated on. With Nixon it's even more cut and dried. He'll get it on the first.

The only surprise at Los Angeles was the choice of Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas to be Kennedy's vice presidential running mate.

Here the choice of Nixon's running mate still is up in the air. So that's the only element of surprise in Chicago.

In Los Angeles the Southern Democrats protested against the party's liberal civil rights plank.

Here the Southern Republicans are protesting against the liberal civil rights plank demanded by Nixon and New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Despite the machine-tooled nature of the conventions, the two parties still went through the traditional routine and long-winded speeches, full of bombast and exaggerations.

What the politicians of both parties seemed to overlook was how they looked on television.

In pre-TV days they could put their act on for hours and bore no one but themselves. Now, thanks to TV, they can bore the whole nation.

No wonder there is increasing talk for the need of future conventions to come abreast of the times, and cut their long-winded performances down to the essentials in choosing a presidential candidate.

There won't be much steam in either campaign until September, when the candidates start explaining how they'd carry out the promises made at these conventions.

"WHO WOULDN'T?" Interior Secretary Fred Seaton says into a reporter's microphone in Chicago on being asked if he would accept the GOP vice presidential nomination.

Cooper Takes Jackson Post, Is Promoted

JAMES COOPER

James Cooper, popular State Highway Patrolman stationed here, has been transferred to the OSP Post at Jackson, O.

The transfer also means a promotion for Cooper. He had been advanced to Patrolman-2 and will be second in command at Jackson.

Cooper, who lives at 307 E. Franklin St., will begin his new assignment Monday. He and his wife, Margaret, have three sons.

Mrs. Cooper is a nurse at Berger Hospital. She and the three sons plan to join Patrolman Cooper in Jackson in about two weeks.

COOPER has served in Pickaway County as a patrolman for five years, coming here in 1955. He has nine years of service with the patrol.

The veteran officer hails from Washington C. H. He is an accomplished stone mason and one of his favorite hobbies is making artistic table lamps.

Cooper today said he has enjoyed his tour of duty in Pickaway County and the opportunity to work with people of the community.

A replacement for Cooper has not been named yet by the State Highway Patrol.

AS ALWAYS, the ghost of Abraham Lincoln roams the aisles of the Republican National convention.

Earl Long Runs As Congressman

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Louisiana's stormy former governor, Earl Kemp Long, isn't politically dead.

Almost counted out after a losing race for lieutenant governor last winter, Long, 64, stormed back into the political arena Saturday by running a close second in a field of three in his bid to unseat Rep. Harold McSwain in Louisiana's Eighth District.

The patriarch of the family that has dominated Louisiana politics for more than three decades says he'll "certainly win" the primary runoff with McSwain Aug. 27.

Indiana Boy Drowns

CINCINNATI (AP)—John Campbell, 13, of West Harrison, Ind., drowned Monday in the Whitewater River near the Ohio-Indiana line. The boy and three companions were wading and he apparently stepped into a deep hole.

Sesquicentennial . . . A Look at the Past

Early Pickaway County. Previous to 1847 much of the land on the west side of the Scioto was farmed by tenants, who received either a certain portion of the profits or paid stated rents.

The further removed the ownership of land from those who cultivated it, the worse it was for development of the resources. Slavery was worse than the tenant system and actual ownership the best of all.

Hence it was that the Virginia military district, much of which was held in large tracts, with tenants, did not thrive as well as some other parts having poorer soil but cultivated by those who used the plow and owned the land.

At this time within the county, on the west side of the river, the territory of about 290 square miles contained a population of 8,376, averaging a fraction less than 30 to the square mile; while the territory on the east side of the river, within the county, embracing only 209 square miles had a population of 11,349, averaging almost 55 to the square mile.

This disparity in the density of population of the territory on the east and west sides of the river arose principally from four causes:

1. The large surveys on which the land on the west side of the river was originally located. This prevented persons of small means from seeking farms there.

2. THE difficulty of finding the real owner of those surveys, who generally resided in some of the Southern Atlantic States, or Kentucky and frequently had no agent here to subdivide, or sell the lands.

3. The frequent interference of difficult entries and surveys which rendered the titles insecure; only a small portion of the lands were subject to this last difficulty, yet many persons refrained from purchasing and settling upon them.

4. The greater disposition in the inhabitants to engross large tracts of land instead of purchasing smaller acreage and expending more upon their improvements.

To an observing traveller passing directly through the county from east to west, the contrast was very striking.

Habits brought with the first emigrants could not be changed at once, though time and the operation of our laws gradually modified them. A few years of good crops brought forth the fruits which made agriculture so desirable. These are the blessings designed by a bountiful Benefactor to compensate for the toils, exposures and hardships incident to the pursuit of farming.

Displays

Pickaway County Fair Exhibit. In the east room (opposite the ticket office) in the Coliseum there will be a display of colonial home furnishings, by Sesquicentennial Display Committee.

This display will feature colonial furniture, clothing, linens for all uses of the day, art work, dishes, cutlery and farm tools.

OREGON'S 38-year-old Gov. Mark O. Hatfield (above) will place Richard M. Nixon's name in nomination at the Republican National convention in Chicago.

Norfolk Lunch Counters Are Integrated Quietly

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Quietly and without prior announcement, lunch counters in three variety stores have been opened to Negroes in this Atlantic port city.

The downtown lunch counters were scenes of repeated sitdowns in the spring.

A group of Negro clergymen were served at the counters Saturday. The clergymen spread the word to their congregations.

Miss Nancy Ann Klamfoth Weds Mr. John W. Swingle

MRS. JOHN W. SWINGLE

Miss Nancy Ann Klamfoth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Klamfoth, Canal Winchester, became the bride of Mr. John W. Swingle, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Swingle, Ashville, at 3:30 p. m. May 29 in the Zion's Evangelical Lutheran Church, Groveport. The Rev. George Troutman performed the double ring ceremony, in the setting of two vases of white gladioli and pink carnations, palms and lighted tapers in two seven branch candelabra.

Given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Oren Klamfoth, the bride was attired in a gown of white net and lace. Fashioned with a basque waist and square neckline, the dress featured a bouffant floor length skirt of net and lace. The long lace sleeves came to a point at the brides wrists. A bonnet of satin and lace, held in place the double tiered finger tip veil of illusion. The brides bouquet was white carnations, centered with a corsage of red roses.

Miss Janice Lee Marburger, Delaware, was maid of honor and Miss Mae Winkler and Miss Rita Fries, Columbus, served as bridesmaids. They wore identical dresses of blue chiffon and net. The matching blue net veils and white elbow length striped gloves were gifts of the bride. They carried colonial bouquets of pink and white carnations.

Mr. Joe Cavalier, Columbus, was best man. Mr. Charles Moss and Mr. Thomas Bausum, Ashville, served as ushers. The candles were lighted by Mr. Clayton Coffey, Groveport.

The brides mother wore a powder blue lace dress with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations. The bridegroom's mother wore a royal blue and white print dress with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations. A half hour of wedding music preceded the ceremony. Mr. William Rhil, Laureville, presided at the organ.

Following the reception, held in the church social room, the couple left on a trip. The bride wore for her going away costume, a green and white checked two piece dress. Pinned to her shoulder was corsage of red roses from the bridal bouquet.

The new Mrs. Swingle was graduated by Canal Winchester High School and is now employed in the office of the American Lutheran Church, Columbus.

The groom was graduated by Asville Harrison High School, attended Ohio State University and was employed by the Wartburg Press, Columbus.

After the wedding trip, the new Mr. and Mrs. Swingle resided with the groom's parents until Mr. Swingle left for the armed service, June 9. The new Mrs. Swingle will live with her parents until Mr. Swingle returns.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

Hooking a Ride Is Dangerous

DEAR ABBY: I am a 20-year-old girl who had to walk home. I didn't really "have to"—let's just say "I preferred to".

I went out with this fellow on the recommendation of a friend. She said he was "nice". Well, he took me to a drive-in movie and right away he started to get fresh. When the movie ended, I asked him please to take me home. He had other ideas.

To make a long story short, I got out of the car and started to walk—and my "nice" boy just drove off! I walked awhile and then hooked a ride with a truck driver, who was nice enough to take me right to my door.

My parents were furious. Dad said I took a foolish chance hooking a ride. Yet, I couldn't have walked five miles. What should I have done?

WALKED HOME

DEAR WALKED HOME: Every girl who dates should carry enough money for a taxi or a telephone call. (This is laughingly called "mad money"). If you haven't a father, mother, friend or relative to call for a ride home, then call the police. Young ladies shouldn't "hook" rides with strangers. Neither should they walk unescorted at night.

DEAR ABBY: I am a widower, 71, and have known a woman for 16 years. She recently lost her husband, whom I had known all those years. She is 56.

I have been sick and she is willing to care for me in my home as a live-in housekeeper. Would people talk? Remember, we are not children.

JUST WIDOWER

DEAR JUST: People will talk only if they have reason to believe that you are romantically interested in each other and are living under the same roof without benefit of clergy. What people say doesn't usually bother us—unless it happens to be true.

DEAR ABBY: At a neighborhood coffee klatch one of the girls asked me where I was married. I told her I was married in Tijuana, Mexico in 1954. She said right in front of everybody. "You aren't legally married!" I could have slapped her face.

We were married in an office, but no words were spoken. We paid the man $22 and signed some papers. Are we legally married or not? This is very important to me, as we have three children.

M. J. K.
DEAR M. J. K.: Take the "piece of paper" to a lawyer and ask him if it is binding in this country. It probably is, but it's best to be on the safe side—especially where there are three children concerned.

CONFIDENTIAL TO S. K.: I

Rose Marie Burris Wed to Paul Ramey

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Burris, Route 1, are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Rose Marie, to Mr. Paul Ramey, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Ramey, Route 1.

The wedding was an event of June at the Church of Christ in Christian Union with the Rev. Richard Humble, officiating. The couple presently resided at Route 1.

don't blame career girls for resenting the expression "old maid". In my vocabulary there are no "old maids"—just "unclaimed jewels".

"Pretty cool—the way the Gas Company advances money for GAS Air Conditioning"

Casper the Bassett: No bones about it, were there? The Gas Company handled all the financing, including installation. And the low monthly installments can be paid with our Gas bills.

George: No wonder so many people are installing GAS Central Air Conditioning.

Casper: Sure. And there are two GAS Air-Conditioning systems available. There's the Arkla-Servel Single Unit that both heats and cools and the new Bryant Add-On that connects to GAS Forced Air Heating Systems.

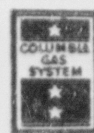

George: Sure is nice.

Casper: You should hear what people who have GAS Central Air Conditioning say about it! Everyone sleeps better. The whole family stays home more. They spend a lot less for recreation, cleaning and laundry, too.

George: I'll be doggone.

Your Gas Company sells, supervises installations, guarantees satisfaction and finances GAS Air-Conditioning Systems.

THE OHIO FUEL GAS COMPANY... Beyond Our Gas Mains Use L-P Gas

Troubled Peace Descends On Tribe in Piersall Hassle

NEW YORK (AP)—The Jimmy Piersall controversy has calmed down — on the surface — but remains explosive underneath. Troubled peace has descended on the Indians.

A scheduled meeting today between the Cleveland players and Manager Joe Gordon to discuss the perplexing Piersall problem was called off late Monday night but it's no guarantee that another won't be called.

Player representative Harvey Kuenn, after a talk with Piersall, said there was no longer any necessity to have a meeting. Piersall, at first greatly distressed to learn that the players planned to hold a meeting concerning him, voiced pleasure over the decision.

"Piersall convinced me that his talk with President Joe Cronin had given him a new outlook," said Kuenn. "Jim promised me that he would mend his ways and his teammates are going to give him a chance to prove it. We're very glad we didn't have to have the meeting."

On the surface, everybody is happy. But the resentment apparently lingers on.

The latest Piersall episode began Monday afternoon when Kuenn disclosed he had requested a meeting between the Cleveland players and Gordon to discuss what should be done about Piersall because of his numerous wrangles with the umpires.

Jimmy's latest squabble, which resulted in his sixth ejection, last Saturday, resulted in a summons to Boston Monday. He received a fatherly talk from Cronin and was fined $100.

It wasn't until he arrived in New York that he learned of the proposed meeting.

"I asked Harvey, who is a friend of mine, what it was all about," said Piersall. "He told me the players felt I was making them nervous with my actions on the field and they wanted to take the situation over with the manager."

"I told him it's all right with me if that's what the fellows wanted but I resented all the talk about my hurting the club's chances to win the pennant. I told him nobody on the club wants to win more than I."

Kuenn, following his talk with Piersall, talked with several other Cleveland players and it was agreed to call off the meeting.

"From now on, the only thing for me to do is to prove I can keep quiet and play ball," said Jimmy.

Earlier, however, he had expressed resentment over what he felt were unjust charges by his teammates.

"All of a sudden, I'm the goat," he said bitterly. "We lost a few games and it's all my fault. Why are they picking on me? I didn't pop up with the bases loaded. I didn't throw the home run ball for the pitchers. . . ."

"I felt that after my talk with Mr. Cronin I had learned something and I was going to tell Gordon that from now on he would have no trouble with me. Then I find out they're holding a meeting about me. . . ."

"They're grown men, aren't they? They're supposed to be pros. Why can't they accept some of the blame for the club's losses? Why do they have to put all the blame on me? Why are they passing the buck?"

Bill Ritter of Middletown had four birdies for a 69 to stay in the select par-breaker threesome.

Cassady qualified for the Jaycee tourney at Marietta, his home city. The trim youngster assists Pro Bob Bisciotti at PCC and has established himself here as an excellent golfer with plenty of potential.

The young golfers assembled at Lima yesterday ripped the Lost Creek course apart with grim determination.

Ken Gibbons of Hamilton had an ace on the 190-yard third hole, defending champion Bob Rosko of Youngstown eagled the 478-yard sixth hole and the 270-yard 12th, and Jerry McGee of New Lexington, who led the qualifiers, eagled the 525-yard 18th hole. All of them are under 18 years of age.

With the low scorer for 36 holes winning the championship, and the four low ones getting a seven-day all-expense paid trip to the national Jaycee tournament at Waterloo, Iowa, Aug. 13-20, the stage was set for a great stretch drive today.

Weiskopf, Cleveland district high school champ the last three years and sixth in the Jaycee last season, will enroll at Ohio State in the fall to give golf coach Bob Kepler another hotshot.

Weiskopf had 15 one-putt greens as he scored his sensational 65. He had birdie putts of 25, 3, 12, 20, 3 and 15 feet, along with others of 6 and 10 inches. On the latter two he reached par five greens in two shots and barely missed eagles.

Weiskopf, Cassady and Ritter were the only par-breakers in the field of 134, but 16 others were within four strokes of par after the first round.

Kent State Signs Up Famous Track Coach

KENT, Ohio (AP)—Kent State University's new track coach is the man who trained John Thomas to become the world's greatest high jumper. And he predicts within three years he will have the Golden Flashes competing on a national level.

Douglas Raymond, quit his job at Boston University to come to Kent State. He had been at Boston since 1946 and shot into national prominence within the last year along with the amazing Thomas.

Tom Cassady, caddy-master at the Pickaway Country Club, fired a par-breaking 68 at Lima's Lost Creek Country Club in yesterday's opening round of the Ohio Jaycee golf championship.

Cassady, 17, had four birdies and one bogie touring the 6,250-yard par 71 layout. This fine showing still left him three strokes behind Tom Weiskopf, a 17-year-old Cleveland who traveled the course at 65.

Baseball players and their parents met at Ted Lewis Park and drove to the capital city in an auto caravan. All players and their managers were admitted free.

Little League President Michael R. Harrison estimated today that the local organization made approximately $55 on last night's game.

DUE TO yesterday's free baseball night, all games were rescheduled for Saturday morning. Three games are on tap today.

They are: Lincoln Plastic (4-0) vs. Rotary (3-1) on the Southend Playground; Jaycees (4-0) vs. Blue Ribbon Dairy (2-2) on the LL diamond, and Elks (4-0) vs. The Herald (0-4) on the softball diamond. All games are at 5:15 p. m.

Tomorrow there are three contests slated. At 5:15 p. m., Second National Bank (0-4) vs. Ward's Market (2-2) on the LL diamond and DuPont (1-3) meets Chamber of Commerce (1-3) on the softball diamond.

The Herald goes against Ralston Purina (1-3) at 7:30 p. m. on the softball diamond under lights.

Pirates Show They Can Get Long Ball Hits

They said the trouble with the Pittsburgh Pirates is that they're just a bunch of singles hitters. They lacked the ingredient that helps win pennants—the long ball.

So what did the Bucs do about getting back to first place Monday night? They banged out three home runs and halted the oncoming St. Louis Cardinals with a 4-2 victory that gave them a half-game lead over the idle second-place Milwaukee Braves.

Bill Virdon, Bob Skinner and Roberto Clemente provided the long ball. Virdon hit his homer in the sixth. The blow came off Larry Jackson and tied the score at 1-1. Pittsburgh went ahead, 2-1 in the sixth and St. Louis tied it 2-2 in the seventh, when Jackson went out for a pinch hitter.

In the eighth, with Ronnie Kline, a former Pirate on the mound, Skinner hit one into the seats to regain the lead for the Pirates. Then, for insurance, Roberto Clemente homered in the ninth and relief artist Elroy Face came in to seal Bob Friend's 11th triumph of the season.

In the only other game scheduled in either league, the Cincinnati Reds overcame a 5-0 deficit to defeat the Chicago Cubs 6-5 with two runs in the ninth climaxed an action-packed game in which Ernie Banks of the Cubs was carried off the field after being hit with a pitch and Cincinnati pitcher Joe Nuxhall had to be restrained from assaulting umpire Ed Vargo.

Banks, batting against Don Newcombe in the second inning, was struck on the left knee by a pitch. He fell writhing to the ground and it was feared he had suffered serious injury. Examination showed only a bruise and he was expected to be in the lineup today for his 589th consecutive game.

Nuxhall's blowup game in the eighth when George Altman, who had hit a three-run homer off Newcombe earlier, beat out an infield hit. Nuxhall, covering first on the play, took the throw from first baseman Gordon Coleman. When Varga called Altman safe, Nuxhall charged him and nearly knocked him off his feet.

Browns To Face Rugged Training

HIRAM, Ohio (AP)—The 46 players at the opening of the Cleveland Browns' training camp here Monday were told by Coach Paul Brown to get themselves set "for a rugged camp experience."

The coach called upon the players to dedicate themselves to football and "be ready to pay the price."

"Play with exuberance," he said. "I don't want this team to look like a typical pro football team. I have a philosophy that we have to be the best."

"We have lost something by not being in the championship game the last few years. We're going to regain that old standing."

Tom Cassady, Pickaway Country Club assistant, is at Lima this week participating in the State qualified at Marietta.

Yours truly was at the PGA finals in Akron during the weekend. The golfing there was as expected—great.

Congratulations to Dr. Bob Hedges and Bill Sibbick for the tie in Sunday's Foster Memorial. The two will meet in a playoff at a convenient date.

Rick Spire fired a 79 in the District Open yesterday at the Columbus Country Club. Brother Ray of Lancaster covered the 18 with a 77. Both qualified for today's final 18.

Bob McFadden says signups for the annual Club championship competition are urgently needed. Participants may register at the Pro Shop to beat the August 5 deadline.

Matches start August 8. The Championship match will be a Labor Day event.

Pistol Competition Slated at Perry Today

CAMP PERRY, Ohio (AP)—Pistol competition begins today in the National Rifle and Pistol Matches, which are expected to bring 7,000 military and civilian shooters to the range between now and Aug. 28.

Defending the pistol championship of the National Rifle Assn. will be Master Sgt. Huelet L. Benner, an Army instructor at West Point, who fired a score of 2,615 last year. It was the sixth time he had taken the title. A perfect score would be 2,700.

Eddie Arcaro has won the Preakness six times, starting in 1941 with Whirlaway.

U.S Olympic Track Aides Speak Confidently of Team

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Former Olympic head coach Dean Cromwell, always the optimist, today forecast great success for the United States track and field team in Rome this summer.

In a quieter but equally reassuring tone, Uncle Sam's decathlon star, Rafer Johnson, predicted it will take a record score to win the 2-day, 10-event grind in the 1960 Olympics.

Harold Connolly, hammer-throwing champion, announced he will be trying to better his world mark of 225 feet 4 inches and his Olympic mark of 207-3¼ even before he heads for Rome in meets coming up in Southern California Aug. 5 and 12.

Connolly is pampering a badly torn back muscle but said the injury is gradually responding to treatment.

The three were guests at a track and field writers' luncheon. Johnson, who set a record score of 8,683 in the recent National AAU decathlon at Eugene, Ore., admitted that 9,000 or more points are possible.

He said he expected C. K. Yang, of UCLA, who will compete at Rome for Nationalist China and who finished second in the recent National, to give him the most competition.

Coach of the 1948 American team, Cromwell declared the United States could leave its top three athletes at home and win the Games with the next three.

Cromwell predicted a sweep in the 100 and 200 meter dashes, as Bobby Morrow accomplished in the 1956 Games. "If we are provided with enough bandage and adhesive tape to keep Ray Norton together."

Norton, subject to injury, is best U.S. bet in the sprints.

Cromwell predicted success in the 3,000-meter steeplechase for George Young, the ex-Arizonan now in the Army.

"And Herbie Elliott had better not have anything wrong with him or that young man from Oregon, Dyrrol Burleson will beat him. Don't sell him short in the 1,500 meters," said Cromwell, referring to Burleson, the American champion.

Horsemen Win At Wellston

A Horse Show was held in connection with the Jackson County Fair at Wellston last week, in competition.

Bud Frazier, on his pinto, "Champ," was fourth in the Cloverleaf Barrel Race.

Jackie Frazier also received a fourth place award, exhibiting her parade horse "Londos Tony."

In a class for English 3-gaited horses, Marvin Reichelderfer, Tarlton, aboard his "My Dawn Juan" was awarded the blue and the trophy. Marvin also placed fifth in a class for 3-gaited horses with full mane and tail showing Mr. H. J. Frazier's mare, "Highland Hanna."

Girl Net Stars Enter Doubles

CINCINNATI (AP)—Doubles competition was to start today in the national tennis tournament for girls 15 and under.

All seeded players breezed through the first round of singles play Monday but they had to share the spotlight with 11-year-old Peaches Bartkowicz of Hamtramck, Mich.

Peaches recently won the national titles for girls 13 and under and 11 and under but she wasn't seeded for the event here. The youngster, who weighs only 80 pounds, moved through the first round Monday, however, with a 6-2, 4-6, 6-3 victory over Giuliana Peterson of Bethany, W. Va.

Top-seeded Stephanie DeFina of Hollywood, Fla., didn't lose a game as she whipped Judy Anderson of Gary, Ind., in the first round, 6-0, 6-0.

Indiana Pacer Cops Feature at Hamilton

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Earl's Creed, closing fast as Donnie Counsel faded, won the featured Class C-2 pace at Hamilton Raceway Monday night.

Earl's Creed, driven by Ray Debaun and owned by E. J. and R. Bonwell of Crawfordsville, Ind., covered the mile in 2:08 and paid $7.00.

Ohio Convention Delegates Happy

CHICAGO (AP)—The pace for Ohio delegates to the Republican national convention has taken on a sharply quickened tempo.

They joined fervently in the wave of sentiment which engulfed the big International Amphitheater Monday night marking:

The centennial of the Grand Old Party's nomination of Abraham Lincoln for the presidency.

Another draught from the cup of old lang syne as Republicans again said hail and farewell to Herbert Clark Hoover, now 85, who stepped down from the presidency nearly 28 years ago.

Today promised another double-shot of happiness for the Buckeye contingent:

A chance to see, hear and cheer Dwight D. Eisenhower, the party's first two-full-term president of this century, and Another hope that the Ohio delegates will have a chance to represent personally Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the man they expect to carry the GOP banner to victory in November.

The 100-plus delegates and alternates from Ohio were disappointed Monday. They were to have been the first to greet and be photographed with Nixon. They were happy to be in the vanguard of greeters, but at the last minute a delay in the Nixon schedule pulled the rug from under them as they waited in a hotel meeting room for him.

Ohio Republican Chairman Ray C. Bliss explained the situation said he expects the Ohio meeting with Nixon to be rescheduled today.

Ohioans may recall that C. William O'Neill, in his successful 1948 campaign for governor, had himself photographed with literally thousands of political well-wishers.

Voluntary talk in the Ohio delegation about a possible vice presidential nominee simmered down considerably after former Sen. John W. Bricker, the delegation chairman, and Bliss as much as said at Monday morning's caucus that the decision will be up to Nixon.

There were a few lingering hopes, especially in the minds of Ohio, that Gov. Nelson Rockefeller still might accept a draft for the No. 2 spot. These hopes, however, were in the face of Rockefeller's own disclaimer, Nixon's own public acceptance of Rockefeller's decision and Nixon's statement that President Eisenhower will not attempt to persuade Rockefeller to run.

Most Ohio delegates were inclined to take Rockefeller at his word and write him off as a vice presidential possibility. Although it was impossible because of the full-swing convention activity to take an accurate poll of the delegation, it appeared that U. N. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge has heavy Buckeye support.

But Sen. Thruston Morton of neighboring Kentucky, the Republican national chairman, also has considerable backing among the Ohioans.

Regardless of who the personal favorites are, however, Nixon can count on solid Ohio backing for his own choice for the vice presidential nomination when the time comes.

Editor's Note—Even in the midst of a hot pennant race, Chuck Connors has no regrets dropping baseball for acting. In the following guest column the star of "Rifleman" explains why.

By CHUCK CONNORS
Written For The Associated Press
Compared with playing baseball, acting's a snap. Say I'm batting .300, which is pretty good for me. That's pretty good hitting. But in acting I have to be batting 1.000. This is possible because if I misplay a scene or strike out on a speech, they reshoot it. Simple, no? As a rookie I learned early about the expendability of a player who doesn't consistently post a good batting average.

I always had my heart set on playing first base for the Dodgers. But Gil Hodges, with 32 home runs under his belt that year, had it sewed up. This, combined with my nemesis, Manager Burt Shotton's violent disapproval of my clowning and brashness, made me expendable. I was sold to the Chicago Cubs.

The Cubs farmed me out to the Los Angeles Angels. I eventually went through the revolving door, returning to the Cubs and back to the Angels again. That's when one of my Los Angeles fans, MGM casting director Billy Grady, offered me a part in a motion picture.

Believe it or not, the thought of acting held no terror for me. That first part—playing a state trooper in "Pat and Mike"—paid me $500 for three days' work. This, I thought, was a great racket. So, during the subsequent off-season I got some more little jobs which paid anywhere from $100 to $750 a week.

All told, during that off-season, I earned over $11,000 for my movie work. It sure didn't take a genius to figure this was better than the $6,200 I was getting playing first base for 6½ months.

That's when (in 1952) I quit baseball to become a full-time actor.

I still had a lot to learn about acting. But it was my baseball background that did the trick for me when I got the big break.

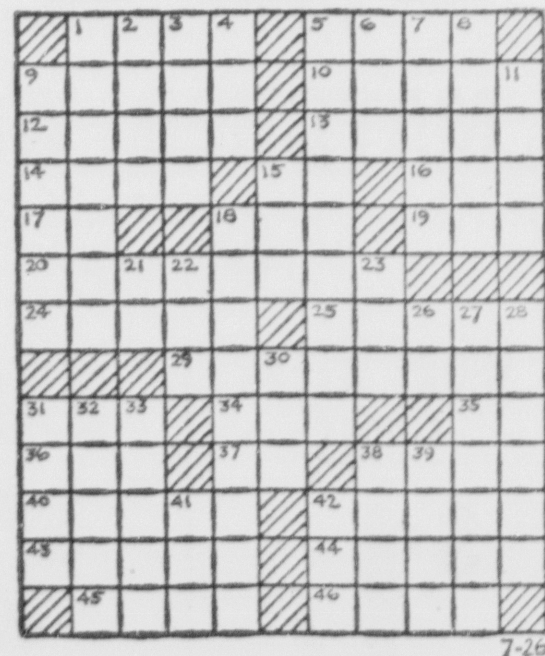

When I came up to the test for the Lucas McCain leading role in ABC-TV's "The Rifleman," more than 40 actors had already been tested and turned down. The McCain role called for the actor to be able to handle a rifle as easily and as skillfully as a twirler does his baton. The producers used a unique device to test each candidate's potential on this score. As each actor walked through a door, a rifle was thrown at him. You can imagine the reactions and results—some dropped it, some were clobbered.

Luckily, my good baseball reflexes came to the rescue when it was my turn at bat, so to speak; it was more like a bat boy tossing me a tab. Casually, I snatched the rifle in the air. This impressed the producers—and eventually they offered me the part.

Big Ovation Handed Hoover

Ex-President Gives
His 4th Farewell Talk

CHICAGO (AP)—All the chairman could get out was, "Ladies and gentlemen, I present to you one of the greatest humanitarians."

The ladies and gentlemen knew who was coming. They roared, stamped, clapped and cheered.

Here he was again the ancient Republican, and again he was saying this would be the last time. "Unless some miracle comes to me from the good Lord, this is finally it," Herbert Hoover told GOP conventioners who seem to like him more as the years go by.

Certainly hoping he was mistaken, the Grand Old Man of the GOP had announced in 1948, 1952 and 1956 that those were his farewell conventions. He repeated the announcement Monday night.

Hoover's voice is thinner than before and less clear. He talked of a moral slump in the land he once served as president.

He spoke against the hum of a crowd half listening and half wandering. There was appropriate applause. But there were those in the flock who were not so worshipful of his words to hear them out.

That's not really offensive, in the ways of political conventions. Hoover, 85, knows the ways of conventions.

"Age has skill," he was told by a young man who heads the Young Republican National Federation. He presented Hoover the national convention medal.

They cheered again in the hall, and they prompted the man who has been living out the memory of a great depression, the man who now speaks of moral slump, to recall: "I, too, was once a young Republican."

Request Made For Old Gear

A call for antique cars and farm machinery for display at this year's Pickaway County Fair has been sounded.

Ned Dresbach, heading the project, said the old - type autos and farm gear will fall in line with Pickaway County's sesquicentennial observance.

Dresbach said all antiques collected will be prominently displayed during the Fair. He said he is sure many county residents have items of interest.

Dresbach said owners willing to display their wares may contact him by phone at GR 4-5766 or call the Fairgrounds at GR 4-2085. He said the items will be cared for and returned.

9th Forest Fire Fighter is Killed

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Three fire fighters died Monday, raising the death toll in the West's outbreak of forest and range fires to nine.

Two men died in Washington from burns suffered earlier while fighting blazes in the Umatilla National Forest. Near Kamsloops, in British Columbia, a fire fighter was killed when struck by a falling tree.

Many of the fires, which have charred a total of 275,000 acres in the Western states and western Canada, remained out of control today.

Commissioners Accept Fayette Memorial Bid

The Pickaway County Commissioners yesterday entered into a contract with Fayette Memorial Hospital Washington C. H., to handle indigent county hospital patients.

A contract for one year, starting Monday, calls for a per day expense of $24 per patient. Provisions and contingencies to Police and this contract. This is one of many out-of-county hospital contracts approved by the Commissioners.

The following transfers were made: from Juvenile Court per diem support of minor children to Juvenile Court's Juvenile Officer of $150;

From Juvenile Court per diem support of minor children to Probate Court other expenses of $200, and from unanticipated emergencies and contingencies to police and Municipal Court salaries of $70.16.

A THREE-MAN committee was set up to study county office salaries and recommend wages commensurate to the jobs. The Commissioners have not named a committee to date.

Bills and claims against the county for the week ending July 16 amounting to $7,210.49 were approved.

Wage Talks Opened with Rubber Firm

CINCINNATI (AP)—Negotiations start today on a proposed wage increase for about 25,000 employees in 18 plants of the U.S. Rubber Co.

E. M. Cushing of New York heads a team of company negotiators due to start talks with United Rubber Workers delegates, headed by H. D. Dawson, an aide to union president L. S. Buckmaster.

The talks here cover wages only. The two-year contract runs to July 1, 1961.

If past practice is followed, bargainers for both sides will watch carefully similar negotiations now on in Cleveland for employees of Firestone Tire & Rubber Co.

Firestone is the first firm of the Big Four in the rubber industry this year to start talks on a contract wage reopening clause. In the past, settlement from such talks generally has set a precedent for the industry.

Delegates from B. F. Goodrich Co., the pace setter in contract negotiations last year, also open wage talks with the union today in Columbus, covering 12,000 workers.

Bargainers for Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. are slated to begin talks today in Cleveland on a wage reopener.
